Food bites

Italian cooking school

Fans of Italian cuisine, will be delighted to hear that The Italian Cultural institute of Ireland recently launched an exciting new project involving a number of Italian restaurants in Ireland. The aim is to promote Italian food and culture. All the restaurants involved will propose 12 typical recipes – one for each month of the year, which will be accompanied by 12 specifically selected wines. Customers who choose this menu will receive a gift of a ceramic plate designed by Elisabetta Angeli and exclusively created by the famous house of 'Tognana Porcellane'.

Wake up and smell the Coffee

Anybody who's been to Italy will testify that Italians love Lavazza coffee. Although not as well known over here, it prides itself on being the country's favourite brand for espressos, cappuccinos, café lattes and café americanos. We coffee connoisseurs at iVenus are very fond of it too! We especially like Qualità Rossa – it's best selling variety. What's more we're delighted
