Umore: 😊 affamato

Per inaugurare la serie, quale modo migliore di parlare di cibo Italiano...the first episode revolves around Italian food, and focuses on the most impressive up-and-coming Italian food professionals in Dublin. The episode features a special report from the Rathgar-based Italian School of Cooking, with an interview with one of the founders and directors Marco Giannantonio as well as their Chef Carlos Lischetti. With recorded impressions of the students on the night, as well as an impromptu chorus of Italian songs...this is a real Italian evening captured for the airwaves, and not to be missed!

Chef Carlos Lischetti doing his thing.
